FROZEN PIPES IN THE WINTER

A major cause of water damage is split and cracked water pipes after abnormally cold weather. During the winter, an unusually long and sever cold spell can cause pipes to freeze and break.

It is important to take precautions to prevent the breaking of pipes.

Remember to:

Insulate pipes in attic and crawl spaces

Disconnect garden hoses and seal any leaks that allow cold into your home.

Install insulated covers on all outside faucets

Faucets connected to vulnerable pipes should be allowed to drip during cold weather.

Remember, a 3mm crack in a pipe can spew more than 250 gallons of water a day.

Outdoor water pipes are buried deeply enough to prevent most freezing, yet a major, extended freeze still breaks pipes in thousands of homes and businesses each year. Burst pipes can cause very large losses, particularly if the structure is left unoccupied and no one discovers the damage quickly.

If a pipe bursts, let faucets run to drain the water, but immediately turn off the home's water shut-off valve.

REMEMBER - In case of an emergency, it is important to know the location of the main water valve and the valve on your water heater to be shut off.

During this cold, holiday season, remember to keep the pipes insulated and to CALL SERVICE MASTER in an emergency.

CATASTROPHE AT THE HOLIDAYS?

The holidays are here and everyone is preparing to take a few days to celebrate. During this time, however, catastrophe still strikes.

No matter how big or small - you still have someone to call. 24 hours a day, 7 days a week - EVEN HOLIDAYS.

Service Master will not take a holiday from HELPING YOU!
